Columbus School for Girls

Dedication

Understanding, a virtue which few of us can honestly claim, is Mrs. Spencer's outstanding quality. Any one of us, swamped with homework, distraught and exhausted, can find reassurance in her serenity. Her helpful advice, which is always forthcoming, is given as a friend, as well as by a teacher.

The Class of 1960 wishes to express its appreciation by dedicating this yearbook to Mrs. Spencer. We only hope that we may gain some measure of her understanding by means of her inspiration.

The Class Will

We, the Class of 1960, having reached the end of our senior year, although in a somewhat mentally and physically disabled state, do hereby will the following to the over-healthy Class of 1961, with the hopes that they may never reach this debilitated state.

To Janie Butler—Lisa McKee thankfully bequeaths her fabulous collection of bleaches and hair dyes, Connie Bridgman leaves the ability to be "unaware," and Karen Holmes wills her love of the stage.

To Susie Culter—Sandra Ackley leaves her blond hair with all its assets, Connie Bridgman leaves her cautiousness behind the wheel, and Marilyn Merkel wills her undaunted enjoyment of life.

To Ginny Cunningham—Sandra Kirkendall wills her fingernails or claws, whichever they may be called, Kathy Knies leaves her willowy figure, and Judy Cosler leaves her incisive remarks.

To Daphne Daunt—Aija Vilums bequeaths her European background provided that she in turn wills it to Baiba, Missie Martin leaves her manageable black curly hair, and Sue Zollinger leaves her neatness.

To Debby Hammond—Carolyn Thomas wills the assurance of always having a date, Penny Utley wills her pokiness, and Linda Dresbach leaves her Dramatic Club experiences.

To Sharon Hill—Kathy Knies wills her enviable chic, Aija Vilums bequeaths her passion for French, and Lisa McKee leaves all of her make-up.

To Abigail Hobbs—Molly Doyle and Lynn Balshone leave their love of the great outdoors, especially camping trips, Sandra Ackley leaves her quietness, and Carol Stecker wills her use of the V. W.

To Dorothy Hubbard—Lynn Balshone leaves the presidency of the Myopia Club, Judy Cosler leaves her excellent tonal quality and uncanny pitch, and Missie Martin leaves her many cousins, left to her by Dorothy Appleton.

To Joanne King—Barbara Zollinger wills dancing school, Sue Wyker leaves the joys of farm life, and Molly Doyle bequeaths her natatorial prowess.

To Anne Kirsten—Penny Utley and Marilyn Merkel leave their love of the South, Linda Dresbach wills the dubious distinction of being last in the commencement line. and Sandra Kirkendall leaves her broken bones, cuts, and bruises.

To Ellen Larrimer—Marilyn Merkel bequeaths her charming freckles, Nora Gunning wills her love of a large family, and Kathy Knies leaves her tiny waist.

To Nancy McCloud—Elizabeth Lee, Lisa McKee, and Sue Zollinger leave Culver men, Carol Stecker wills her naturally wavy hair, and Linda Dresbach leaves her incriminating blush.

To Karen Mykrantz—Molly Doyle wills her athletic prowess, Marilyn Merkel leaves her passion for raw potatoes, and Linda Dresbach bequeaths the broken half of the team cup.

To Edie Postlewaite—Elizabeth Lee leaves her almost red hair, Angela Westwater leaves her memories of summers at Hoxies', and Nancy Rice leaves her figure.

To Mary Sue Pringle—Barbara Zollinger wills her everlasting shoe infraction, Penny Utley leaves her contact lenses, and Sandra Kirkendall gratefully leaves her ability to sing, but a touch flat.

To Sandra Puppel—Carolyn Thomas leaves her serenity, Sandra Ackley bestows her artistic qualities, and Lisa McKee wills her English ability.

To Kathy Raney—Connie Bridgman wills the keys to the Senior Pound, Linda Lee Williams gratefully relinquishes her long ride home, and Sue Wyker leaves her unruffled calm.

To Marcia Ross—Angela Westwater leaves the inevitable and numerous family trips, Judy Cosler fondly wills her problems, and Lynn Balshone leaves her love of Harvard men.

To Anne Saxby—Alice Richter wills her love of shoes, Missie Martin leaves O.S.U., and Linda Dresbach leaves sailing at Leatherlips.

To Patty Schiff—Sandra Kirkendall leaves her attractive goalie pads, Judy Cosler leaves the presidency of Diets, Inc., and Nancy Rice leaves her mathematical ability.

To Tana Sue Sterrett—Linda Lee Williams bestows her lovely voice, Molly Doyle leaves her inimitable walk, and Alice Richter leaves her numerous permanents.

To Margaret Sutherland—Nora Gunning leaves the dubious pleasure derived from being patted on the head, Karen Holmes leaves lengthy bus rides, and Linda Lee Williams wills her boundless Lutheran enthusiasm.

To Debby Wyker—Sue Wyker wills the marvelous jeepster, Barbara Zollinger leaves her hair problems, and Molly Doyle leaves her notorious collection of jokes, trusting that they will be well used.

To the Class of 1961—the Seniors leave bridge at noon, the senior stairs, senior privileges, bake sales, application blanks, no senioritis, term papers, boards, senior day, leadership of the school, waiting for that fateful day in May, and finally commencement.

To the Class of 1962—the Class of 1960 wills the Red Team and all the accompanying team songs, tax stamp drives, and spreads, with the hope that they will be able to collect more tax stamps than we did.

To the Class of 1966—the Class of 1960 leaves the red and white class flag, the class song, all the mascots, and the life as an Upper Schooler, which we hope you will enjoy as much as we have.

In testimony whereof, we hereunto subscribe our name, this ninth day of June, nineteen hundred and sixty.

Class Prophecy

This is your globetrotter, Angela Westwater, telecasting from Space Refueling Center, C.S.G.—60, between the moon and Mars.

The news right here in the universe is that Judy Cosler, the famous mathematician, has just formulated a new rocket fuel so that Linda Dresbach can fly quickly to Mars to become center foward on the Mars Hockey Team.

Speaking of rockets, here comes Molly Doyle in her streamlined turquoise and white rocket convertible. And who's that beside her? Why it's Karen Holmes on her way to Saturn to take pictures of the other side of its famous rings. By the way, those rings have taken on a new look since Connie Bridgman has decorated them in the newest colors of the season—maroon and white.

Right now a convention is being held here in the Center in which a debate is in progress between Lynn Balshone for the affirmative and Missie Martin for the negative on the question, Resolved: That Fraternities be abolished forever on Venus. If the affirmative should win, such action would prove tragic to Carol Stecker, housemother of Luna Moona Sky.

You might be interested to know that Dear Miss Kirkendall has been voted the most popular lonely hearts columnist on Venus. She writes for Gunning's Daily Exposure, the first interplanetary newspaper of its kind. On the front page of Miss Gunning's paper you can read a review of Aija Vilums' new book, One Hundred and One Ways to Raise Your S.A.T. Scores. There you will also find a picture of beautiful Miss Carolyn Thomas, who has just been unanimously chosen as Miss Universe for the coming year.

A red blur just whizzed past the window of our studio here! That must be Utley's Dependable Rocket Taxi Service, "The Taxis that never break down," carrying students to Ackley's Martian School of Charm. Miss Ackley has arranged to have Kathryn Knies as the head of the hair-styling department in her new school, which is affiliated with her Venus branch.

From our base here on C.S.G.—60 we can hear the scintillating voice of Linda Lee Williams coming from Elizabeth Lee's fabulous new night club, Lee's Lunar Light-house. The new comedy team of Richter and Rice is scheduled to appear here in the near future. Because of their great impact on audiences, nurse Sue Wyker will be on hand to administer laughing gas and treat possible cases of shock.

Speaking of entertainment, the talk of the universe is that Sue Zollinger has just been appointed choreographer of Lisa McKee's new musical, "The Sound of Rockets." For this new play, Barbara Zollinger is making six dimensional scenery in her new Tally-O-scope technique.

Your Globetrotter has just received a flash that Miss Marilyn Merkle has been named Interplanetary Postmaster General. She is believed to be well qualified for the job since she has had so much experience in handling mail over the years.

That concludes for today the news items in the universe. As you can see on your space television, my T-bird rocket is waiting for me so I can trot over to another globe. Good-bye!
